Transform student engagement with education

Our Internal Inclusion Centres have high expectations for student academic outcomes and engagement with education. Within our holistic approach we understand the importance of prioritising social and emotional development and behaviour for learning as the precursors for academic achievement.

Fully managed, service saving your SLT and staff member's time

We understand the time demands on you as school leaders, therefore we fully manage the Inclusion Centre. This includes staffing the centre with our expert team and utilising high-quality systems and processes to manage day-to-day operations, drive innovation and ensure high quality outcomes are delivered to your school.

'Our Think for the Future provision is incredibly important to us because inclusion is at the heart of everything we do. We are serving the needs of every student and in some cases these needs cannot be met without additional support, often additional pastoral support, as a significant proportion have challenges in their own lives for which organisations like TFTF can help us to overcome.'
